Hi, My name is Ryan Schultz—a fellow Lake Kegonsa neighbor. I hope all is well in these crazy times.

I'm an architect by trade and wanted to reach out to see if you happen to need any architectural help in the near future.

Having designed a number of homes on the lake, I'm quite familiar with all the permitting hassles one has to jump through.

Considering the economic climate, it might be the best time to design and build, as construction prices are projected to go down in the next couple months/year.

Happy to chat anytime!

All the Best, Ryan

I also wanted to invite you to a Facebook group I started that is dedicated to our lake community.

You can search for it on Facebook under:

'Lake Kegonsa Community'

or go to the following link:

<https://www.facebook.com/groups/384015078755295>

It's meant for casual conversation with your lake neighbors to discuss anything from your favorite fishing hole, to asking for a quick water ski spotter or sailing buddy, to anything in between.

I hope you find it useful.

All the Best, Ryan
